YOUNGEST DRUNKARD.

Norfolk probably has the youngest arunkard of any other city in the world. Frank Clarke, a twelve-year-old newshoy, has been in an intoxicated condition many times in the past few months. Clarke has been carted to the police station twice this week, having indulged in enough ree whiskey to paralyze his sensibilities and render him totally unconscious. When the boy starts to drinking he drinks until he drops in his tracks. The youth will probably be taken to a reformatory.

MISSING INSPECTOR. MISSING INSPECTOR.

MISSING INSPECTOR.

No trace has yet been found of Norfolk City Building Inspector Nugent, who disappeared a few days ago. The inspector's accounts are said to be correct, and that the cause of his disappearance is the pending divorce suit which his wife recently instituted against him. In view of the absence of Nugent, the office of building inspector is vacant, with no one left in authority to grant nuthority to grant building permits.

with no one left in authority to trant authority to grant building permits.

The disappearance of Building Inspector Nugent brought out some new developments to-day in the courts. His wife instituted suit in the Law and Chancery Court for a divorce from him, claiming that her husband for many months maltreated her and did not properly provide for her. She said she had to work to support herself, while Nugent spent his salary of 100 per month on alcohol. Nugent left his family in sore financial straits. Their household effects were attached to-day fo settle a claim for $16. They had to give bond to prevent their furniture from being sold over their heads. No trace of Nugent has been found.

MR. FISHER AND THE GOULDS

Mr. McIlwaine Defends Fisher and His Management of the Electric Road.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., July 8.—Two specches were made in the Fisher-Gould specches were made in the Fisher-Goula case to-day, Mr. Miles M. Martin beginning about 10 o'clock and closing only in time to give Mr. McIlwaine a few moments before the adjournment of the court at 2 o'clock for recess.

Mr. McIlwaine took up his argument again this afternoon at 4 o'clock and spoke till the court closed a little after 8 o'clock.

Mr. Martin spoke on all the phases of the cases, both as to the law and the facts. Mr. McIlwaine, during his morning speech, discussed the demurrer, and this afternoon argued the facts. He contended that at the time of the adjustment. tended that at the time of the adjustment agreement there was no floating debt, and that the large debt of $3,000,000 now existing has accumulated under the present management.

Referring to Messrs. Gould and Fisher as financiers, he said that Fisher is not in it with Gould. He called attention to the charges made by the defendants that much of the expense under the Fisher regime was disbursed from New York, and said that this was necessary or to have a new Council in the city of Richmond. He had no words of disparagement fer any one of the opposition. In commenting on the testimony of Mr. Sitterding, he said that as this gentleman had testified to having made mistakes in his life, he may have done so in this matter. Mr. Mcliwaine complimented Mr. Henry W. Anderson, of Richmond, and referred to him as the young man who knows mere about all the facts in the case than the rest of the attorneys combined.

The case will be continued this morn-

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BLUEFIELD, W. VA., July 8.—Something over two weeks ago Floyd Matheny, a well known and prosperous farmer, who lived on the north side of East River Mountain, a few miles from Ingleside, in this county, went to his stables, harnessed a team and went out into his corn field to de some plowing. At the dinner hour he did not return to the house, and a messenger was sent to the need to summon him to his aconday meal. The messenger found the horses quietly masticating the tender cornstalks, but Mr. Matheny was nowhere to be seen. He had disappeared as completely as if the earth had opened and swallowed him. Every effort to learn what had become if the missing man was fruitiess. The days grew into weeks, and the people of the neighborhood could offer no explanatios, all of them being of the opinion that it was a second Wentz mystery. Nothing happened to disturb this be-
